GEORGIA.

Stephens Elected by 40,000 to 50,000 Majority.

He Carries Nearly Every County in the State.

The further the campaign advances, the more it is evident that a great majority of the temperance people will support Mr. Williams instead of regular prohibition candidate.

Telegraphic reports from Iowa say that since the prohibition amendment was adopted, about 300 saloons have been closed in that State. There are yet several hundred more to follow the example of the three hundred.

The "old-red-shirted-rifle-club-kukluxian," is a fitting name for the Bourbon party of the South. They are doing their criminal work in South Carolina, and always the person who gets killed by them is a Republican.

The Wisconsin Methodist Conference acted more discreetly this year than last on the temperance question. Last year it went into politics, and favored a third party; but this year it wisely urged personal work in an effort to reform inebriates, and the teaching of temperance principles.

The Richland County Observer, of September 14th, said: "Hon. S. L. Lord, of Edgerton, Rock county, is the first candidate nominated in the State this year for State Senator. If the Republicans follow up this beginning with such nominations the next Senate will be a good one."

In accepting the nomination for Congress from the hands of the Democrats, Judge Park, of the Ninth district, said the Republican party was not capable of self-government. Judge Park has placed himself in a bad position. When the Republican party is paying off the national debt at the rate of fifteen millions a month, when taxes are being gradually reduced, when the country is prospering beyond anything ever before known in its history, it would seem to an outsider that the Republican party is capable of doing what the Democratic party never could do.

THAT POISONED BOUQUET.

Mrs. Scoville's Connection with the Attempt to Give it to Gutierrez.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—All knew of the "poisoned bouquet" story telegraphed to the papers," said Mr. George Scoville, "is what Mrs. Scoville told me about it at the time. I was not in Washington, and know nothing personally about the matter. Mrs. Scoville said, on the morning of the execution, she, her brother John W. Gaffigan, and a Miss Chevalier, drove down to the jail in a carriage. On the way they stopped at a florist's, where flowers for the funeral had been ordered, and Miss Scoville made her debut as an actress in Boston. She attracted the notice of many ladies and funds were raised to give her a classical education. She first appeared in opera in New York in 1856, and in Paris in 1861. She had an elegant home at Marshfield, Mass.

day night, and when paying his respects to that portion of the Independent platform which charges him with voting to appropriate $5,000 for the payment of the liquor bill on the Garfield funeral train, he said he wanted the reporters to take down his precise language, and he then denied the charge as follows: "I pronounced the statement that I either voted for or sanctioned, supported or in anywise approved of the above expenditure, as unqualifiedly false, without one shred or patch of truth to stand upon, and I call upon the authors of this charge to produce the proof, retract the charge, or stand as self-confessed liars before all honorable men." Here is a challenge to the framers of the Independent platform that can hardly go unnoticed. Following this challenge Mr. Williams said he held in his hand a copy of the record of the House of Representatives relating to the matter, attested by the journal clerk thereof, but that he thought that he would not just now "infringe the information to the gentlemen who frame platforms and found parties to stab the old Republican organization to the death."

THE SUPREME COURT.

It is Robust Intellectually and Physically.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—On Monday next the judicial branch of the government will be set in motion by the reassembling of the United States supreme court. This session will continue a month or more, when there will be an intermission, and on the first Monday in December the regular session of the court will commence, which will last until May or later. The docket of the court is very much overcrowded, but with the new blood infused into its membership much less backlog is made now than for years past. Of the cases which enter the attention of the court nearly 2000 are submitted to the judges in pairs. The entire has been referred to the committee for adjudication. Of course all the important giant cases are submitted to oral argument.

This far has few of the members of the court been to Washington. The chief justice is here, looking for a new house, having decided to remove from his old quarters. Justice Stanley Matthews is also here and has removed to his old house which has been completed. Justice Field telegraphed to day that while long gone he is still in good health.

It is the custom of the court and its judges to call upon the president on the day of its meeting. The president being away this formal call will be deferred and made on his return. It is the opinion of the lawyers who have long been here that the court will be as popular in its history. Every man an important intellectually or physically. It is now an open It is now a time to eat file regular meals and attend to his judicial duties, undistracted by indulgence or a predisposition to sonnenheit.

The saloonkeepers' association have held a meeting and adopted resolutions which declare that the 1500 saloonkeepers of Ohio are a law abiding class, engaged in a legitimate business, that they have faithfully observed the spirit of their family relations as highly valued and are jealously guarded by them as by any other class of persons without exception, and that Gov. Foster, on two different occasions during the temperance campaign, has characterized the saloonkeepers as the most law-abiding and social equals of prostitutes. The association therefore protests most emphatically against an insult so wanton, so inexcusable, and so outrageous when applied to persons engaged in honorable business, many of whom are the pillars of their communities.

Big Prices for New York Real Estate.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Mathias N. Forney, who purchased two four-story brick houses on the northwest corner of Madison avenue and Thirty-eighth street for $100,000 a fortnight ago, has sold them to Jacob A. Flagg for $200,000. Mr. Flagg also purchases an adjoining four-story brownstone house for $200,000. A block of ground containing ten lots on the west side of Madison avenue, between Sixtieth and Sixty-first streets, has been bought by Charles Buck & Co. from Mr. Thompson for $30,000. The same firm has purchased $60,000 worth of two lots on the south side of Forty-second street, 350 feet east of Fifth avenue, from William H. Vanderbilt.

"Number twelve West Eighteenth Street," a co-operative flat association, has paid $6000 for the property on which its apartment house is situated.

William D. Lee of Newark, Ohio, has paid $15,000 to Joseph A. Dunn for a residence on Fifth avenue above Sixty-second street, facing Central park.

The Alabama Claims.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The new commissioners of Alabama claims held their first session yesterday, Judge H. G. Wells presiding. There still remains in the treasury $5,551,890 of the Geneva award.

The claims filed number 140, mostly from New Orleans and San Francisco, for clothes and wages lost by seamen, though fifty-two are still for the payment of war premiums. An estimated probable total over 1000 claims will be presented before the commission.

Murdered in Military Style.

SHERIFFVILLE, La., Oct. 5.—At a festival in Carcass, last night, Adolph Marceaux, who was offended, organized his friends and marched into the hall in soldier style, armed, Marceaux commanding: "Halt! Aim! Fire!" At the first volley Narcisse Domingue was killed, and his brother Alexis mortally wounded. There was a terrible panic in the hall. The mafioners escaped, pursued by the sheriff and a large posse.

Connection Democrats.

HARRINGTON, Conn., Oct. 4.—The Democratic state convention organized by the appointment of James L. Gidger as temporary chairman, with 1500 delegates, declared the committee of internal economy for using its election to secure for himself a place in the United States senate in place of David Davis, of whom he said: "You put your finger upon him and he is not there."

The state ticket was chosen as follows: Governor, Thomas M. Water; lieutenant governor, George G. Summer; secretary of state, S. Ward Northeast; treasurer, Alfred R. Goodrich; comptroller, Thomas P. Stanford.

Gen. Butler.

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—The Democratic state committee held a meeting to-day, and gave out that Gen. Butler had decided to accept his nomination and that his letter will be ready in a few days. It is believed that the general only arrived at that decision after confering with the state route jury. Cameron declined to make any statement regarding the reason why he was undergoing no change in his attitude, excepting that he did not think it proper to say anything at this time.

The Fire Record.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Brewster Cameron was in his office at the department of justice this morning. When questioned as to the time when he would make a report relative to the alleged attempt to bribe Dickson, formerly the state route jury, Cameron declined to make any statement, saying that the inquiry was now undergoing no change by the attorney general and he did not think it proper to say anything at this time.

September 27th, 1882.

Briefers.

—Nice July weather.
—Everybody and his wife is in the city to-day.
—News is scarce, everybody speaking of nothing but the Fair.
—Several unimportant arrests were made last evening and to-day by the officers.
—A strong double bill will be given at the Myers Opera house to-night, by the Herbert combination.
—The Rockford Broom Brigade were wise in withdrawing from the intended competition with the invincible home brigade.
—The thermometer at Prentice and Evenson's to-day, registered 58 degrees above zero at 7 a. m., and 83 degrees at 1:30 p. m.
—Don't forget the dance of the St. Patrick's T. A. B. Society at the Rifles armory to-night. Good music and a fine time generally may be expected.

—Any one fond of good music would do well to attend the Hyers sisters concert at Lappin's Music Hall. This will be the last opportunity offered this season.
—The lectures on Ancient Egypt last week, netted the free library fund $15.00. The amount has been deposited in the Rock County Bank. The expenses of the lectures were $24.00.

—Judge Alva Stewart has reversed his decision as to costs in the Bates-Wilcox suit, taxing the costs to Mr. Bates in whose favor the decision was rendered. A legal observance was the basis of the reversal.

—A telegram has been received from Captain Lawler, of the Rockford C. B. B., stating that a pressure of postoffice business will prevent him from having the pleasure of marching on to "Janesville and defeat."

—Alfred Malvern and George Barlow, two young men, while under the influence of liquor last evening, assaulted John McManus, who forgave them, in consequence of which Judge Patten let them off to-day with $1 fine and costs.

—The case against M. H. Colbey charged with selling liquor without a license at Clifton was called in the Municipal court to-day. Mr. Wm. Smith for the defense put in a plea against the jurisdiction of the court, and the case went over.

—The premium baby attracted a great deal of attention on Milwaukee street yesterday afternoon. The happy mother was carrying her little darling home after the exhibition, when the word was passed from month to month that the infant in her arms had won the prize. Immediately the mother was surrounded by men and women, curious to look at the prodigy, nearly all the ladies insisting upon kissing the cherub, while they wished it was theirs.

—The domestic department is in much better shape than it was yesterday. Among the noticeable additions to yesterday's list is a magnificent display of crockery and glass ware by W. G. Wheeler, and some artistic hair goods by Mrs. Sadler.

—The display of buggies, carriages and cutters is large and very fine. Mr. John Griffis has a very fine display of open and top buggies manufactured by J. L. Clark, of Oshkosh, which are well worth inspection. The Single Center Spring Company, of Janesville, have a fine exhibit of their work. W. J. Miller & Sons, of Genoa Junction, also have a good exhibit. The Janesville carriage manufacture display some elegant buggies, made by Mr. H. Buchholz, and the Empire cross Spring Company exhibit some elegant work.

—The display of agricultural implements is large and excellent, and the live stock department is as fine as was ever seen anywhere. The forenoon was occupied on the track in exhibiting the fine points of roadsters and trotters and awarding premiums. The judges were also considering the brood mares and draft horses. In these departments some very fine and fast stock was shown,

—Col. Burr Robbin's extensive menagerie, gets a fair share of patronage, and the visitors to the Fair do not seem to recognize the value of a visit to the tent. The collection of animals is very fine, and embrace some of the rarest animals. The zoological exhibition is better than those one generally sees in circuses and visitors should not miss the opportunity of seeing it, even if only to wonder at the gigantic horse, the largest equine in the world which stands in the center of the tent, calmly surveying the crowd.

—The Fair promises to be the greatest Rock county ever held.

—Dr. George B. Loring, Commissioner of Agriculture of the United States, arrived in the city to-day, and is at the Myers house. He is accompanied by his private secretary, Mr. O. D. LaDow.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hart have returned from Madison where they spent several days visiting friends. The report recently put in circulation that they were preparing to remove from the city is untrue, and their rooms will hereafter be good as usual.

OLIVER-CLELAND.

—The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cleland, in the town of Center, was the scene of a happy gathering on last Tuesday evening. The occasion was the solemnization of the nuptials of Mr. W. J. Oliver and Miss M. J. Cleland. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Towle, and attended by a large number of friends, who shared in the happiness of the handsome couple. Mr. James H. Oliver officiated as groomsmen and Miss Anna M. Cleland as bridesmaid. After the ceremony an elegant repast was enjoyed and the company regaled themselves with an inspection of the long list of handsome presents. Among the guests assembled were noticed, Mrs. E. O. Park and James H. Oliver, of Chicago; Miss T. A. Oliver, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Bell, of Rock Prairie and others.

—Further Particulars about the Conduct of a Few of the Milwaukee Bicyclists.

—The article in yesterday's Gazette exposing the rowdy behavior of three or four of the Milwaukee bicyclists having excited considerable comment, and forced a few hasty apologies and denials, the interviews which follow are given in order to satisfy the public that the Gazette's position was based on fact, and that the mild rebuke given to the brainless youths, was richly deserved. Concerning the hoodlumism exhibited in the theatre, Mayor Croft, Dr. D. Robinson and others denounced it as an outrage on decency, and an insult to the audience, among whom were ladies belonging to the best families of the city. A conscientious statement having been made in a certain quarter that climbing over dress circle seats in a theatre is a performance common to audiences in the best theatres in large cities, is conclusive proof that the author of the thoughtless remark has woefully neglected the opportunities afforded in this age of railways to visit a large city and long, will take part. The entertainment will take place on Friday evening (tomorrow) at Guards Armory. Admission 25 cents, children, 10 cents.

A HUMAN SEA !

The Fair Grounds Crowded with Thousands of Busy People.

Points of Interest.

The third day of the Fair has shown the general interest taken in the success of the institution to be great. At noon to-day there were fully six thousand people on the grounds, and the scene was one of intense animation. The grand stand was not filled, the visitors preferring to roam among the booths and about the grounds. Long lines of carriages and buggies were going continually to and from the grounds and hundreds of pedestrians patiently plodded in the direction of the great congregation of moving humanity. Nearly every available hitching place was monopolized by some of these young men. After the performance I was reading and distinctly heard the conversation in the next room, as the occupants took no pains to moderate their tones. A remark was made to the effect that they would have some fun with the actresses and their language was vile as the vilest. I noticed on entering my room that the door leading into the adjoining apartment was slightlyajar, and after procuring a key locked it. Later on, these people knocked several times distinctly tried to open the door and kicked it once or twice. Their behavior became unbearable, and I called for assistance. I am not a timid woman by any means, but the behavior of my neighbors was absolutely insufferable. Mr. J. W. Fox answered my call and complained to the night clerk, who came up and remonstrated with the bicyclists but when returned him impudent answers. After that the other gentlemen members of the company heard of the affair, and did nothing but their duty in protecting the ladies with them."

Miss Louise Hyers made the following statement:

"One of the men came into my room without knocking and when I turned towards him, said 'I beg your pardon, I thought this was 4S.' I pointed to the number on the door which was plain enough and he went out. He returned a few moments afterward and stood in front of the door for several seconds smiling, asking me if I could direct him to 4S. I answered that he had better see the clerk and closed the door in his face. Soon after that I wanted to go into Miss Wilson's room, but was deterred as that man was standing in the hall."

The tenor of the company Mr. Charles Bentley has a voice of great sweetness and fine quality which at times evidences a lack of cultivation, in the apparent force exercised in bringing even moderately high notes from the chest. He is very pleasing however, and it is only occasionally, when a deficiency can be detected.

Miss Louise Hyers has a rich contralto which she uses well, but parades a little of harshness when given full scope.
